St James's, January 23.

THE following Addreſs having been tranſmitted hither by his Grace the Duke of Athol, Chancellour of the Univerſity of St. Andrews, has been preſented to His Majeſty by the Lord James Murray, introduced by his Grace the Duke of Roxburghe, one of His Majeſty's Principal Secretaries of State.

To the King's Moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Chancellour, Rector, Vice-Chancellour, Principals, Dean of Faculty, Profeſſors and Maſters of the University of St. Andrews.

WE your Majeſty's moſt loyal and dutiful Subjects of this your moſt antient Univerſity in Scotland, cannot forbear to expreſs the ſincere Joy of our Hearts on your Majeſty's ſafe Return to your Kingdoms, which never fails to bring a numerous Train of Bleſſings to your happy People.

It is with very great and particular Satisfaction that we ſee your Majeſty's Arms and Councils abroad and at home ſo much favoured of Heaven; and your unwearied Application to eſtabliſh the General Peace of Europe muſt give a juſt Idea of your Greatneſs and Goodneſs to all the World.

But what tranſports our Hearts with greateſt Joy is, that your Majeſty ſhews ſo extraordinary a Concern and Zeal, not only for the ſtrengthning of the Proteſtant Intereſt in your own Kingdoms, and ſecuring their Liberties; but alſo for the Enlargement of the Proteſtants in the Palatinate and other Places: All which does more and more engage us in the ſtricteſt Obligations of Duty to teach thoſe under our Care, the Principles of true Loyalty and greateſt Affection to your Majeſty's Perſon and Government.

That after a long and proſperous Reign over a happy People your Majeſty may be bleſſed with a glorious Immortality, and that your Imperial Crown may devolve upon Succeſſors in your Royal Family to the End of Time, is and ſhall be the fervent Prayer of

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

Your Majeſty's moſt dutiful, moſt humble, and moſt obedient Subjects.

Atholl, Canc.

Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

Berne, Jan. 24. This State has been taken up laſt Week with proſecuting the neceſſary Meaſures for the better ordering hereafter the Government of this City, and for preventing all Diſorders on Account of Duels, and the like Accidents; whereupon they have reſolved, that ſuch Tradeſmen who ſerve under Maſter Workmen, and all Apprentices, ſhall be forbidden to wear Swords, either in or about the City, on any Account whatever: The like Prohibition extends to all young Men under the Age of 16, of what Quality or Condition ſoever, as likewiſe to all Scholars and Students of the Academy of this City. Orders will likewiſe be given to all the Keepers of Taverns in this Town, not to entertain any Body beyond a certain Hour which is to be fixed in another Meeting, and not to ſuffer any Gamings. It is hoped that theſe Regulations will produce the Effect this State promiſes it ſelf from them.

Naples, Jan. 12. Laſt Week Count Neſſelroth, the Imperial Commiſſary General, imbarked on a Galley and put to Sea for Meſſina, carrying with him a conſiderable Sum of Money for the Service of the Imperial Troops. Yeſterday ſailed a Number of Tartans with the Remainder of Prince Lobkowitz's Horſe for Trapani, under the Convoy of the Canterbury, and Rippon, two Britiſh Men of War. The laſt Letters from Meſſina are dated the 25th paſt: They give an Account, that the greateſt Diligence was uſed for the third and laſt Imbarkation of Imperial Troops, and all neceſſary Stores for Trapani. General Mercy himſelf goes with this laſt Body of Troops, and Sir George Byng will accompany him: They would all be ready to ſail the firſt Week of January. We promiſe our ſelves, that immediately after their Arrival, Palermo will declare for the Emperour.

St. James's, Jan. 21. This Day M. Bonet, Reſident from the King of Pruſſia, had a private Audience of Leave of His Majeſty, to which he was introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl Stanhope, one of His Majeſty's Principal Secretaries of State, and conducted by Sir Clement Cottrell, Maſter of the Ceremonies.

St. James's, Jan. 24. This Day Alexander Cunningham, Eſq; His Majeſty's late Reſident at Venice, being returned from that Employment, was introduced to His Majeſty by the Right Honourable Mr. Secretary Craggs, and delivered his Recredential Letter from the Doge of Venice to His Majeſty.
